Frederic Tuten. At once daringly inventive and acutely aware of the human heart, Tuten can move seamlessly from magic realism to more traditional prose. Tuten's novel The Adventures of Mao on the Long March is a modern classic ( The New York Times called it "almost too good to be true," when it was first published in the 70s),...

Quotes Tagged "Modern Authors". They are simply not dense enough. Too slow, not the right tempo - bores the shit out of a modern brain! There's the real problem: our brains have developed into different speed levels that authors cant adjust to. It has nothing whatsoever to do with quality: it has rather a whole lot to do with people claiming...
